YOUTH CONVENTION

November 15-16, Louisville

FALL 2024

A word from our Superintendent

KMN Family,

We've just completed our 2025 Sectional Councils. This year it was a regional tour at three location venues across the state. Each were rich moments together in prayer, unity, and mission. I love this tribe - KMN - AG USA. What a covering! What a movement!

This Fall, I am reminded of Ps. 25:6, "Remember, O Lord, Your tender mercies and Your loving kindnesses, for they are from of old." I love the FALL season. So, be reminded, Autumn is a season of harvest, a time to reap the rewards of our hard work and reflect on the blessings in our lives. Rejoice, friends. He is working on your behalf. Yes, He is working.

-- Pastor Joe & Renee Girdler,
KMN Superintendent

WE'RE BUILDING MOMENTUM

Rev. Darren Lewis
KMN SECRETARY/TREASURER

dlewis@kyag.org

Since we adopted our daughter Joy in 2012, Jenna and I have actively engaged in many aspects of orphan and foster care ministry.

It has been an honor to answer parents' questions across Kentucky over the years. We recognized early on that the need is more significant than what our ministry roles allow us to do. Neither of us can resign, nor have we felt the Lord is leading us to that place. This remains a consistent matter of prayer for us as we see the great need in Kentucky.

I am excited to announce that we are building momentum in KMN. Through a partnership with the AG Foster Care Network, Adam Bell, of the Michigan Ministry Network, will help us launch this ministry role in KMN as the director of our Foster Care Ministry. Adam and his wife are fully appointed AG US missionaries to Foster Care.

Adam Bell

I am also excited to announce the first person to join Adam's team is Ashlee McCoy, Paris River of Life. Ashlee is a credentialed minister with KMN and a foster mom. Ashlee is passionate about helping our churches serve the foster community throughout Kentucky.

We aim to have at least three local persons on the team in KY's east, central, and west areas. This team will work with local foster care offices, empower our churches to serve, and recruit potential foster parents.

In addition, we are partnering with Backyard Orphans to bring multiple levels of training to this ministry. BYO is at the forefront of foster ministry in the Assemblies of God. Their director, Eric Porter, is a trusted friend and influential voice in the AG Foster Care Network.

It's truly exciting to see years of prayer and planning come to fruition. We invite you to join us on this journey. Whether you desire to volunteer in your community or are a pastor looking to make foster care ministry an outreach of your church, our team is ready to assist you.

If you are passionate about helping the fatherless in our Commonwealth, please prayerfully consider joining our team. I am anxious to converse with you and help connect you with Adam and Ashlee. The church must be a part of the solution to this national problem.

You will receive additional information as this ministry develops in KMN over the coming months. For now, you or your church members may send questions to foster@kyag.org.

Grateful for Building Momentum,

Darren Lewis

GUEST CONTRIBUTOR, ADAM BELL

backyardorphans.org —
— www.agfostercare.network

A little over 10 years ago my wife and I first became aware of the child welfare crisis in our country. It didn't happen because we saw a news report or read an article. We became aware because my wife's childhood best friend and her husband were foster parents and we saw firsthand the circumstances that those children had endured prior to being placed in their care. We also learned that, unfortunately, those children's stories were not uncommon. Cara and I didn't have much knowledge and we had even less experience, but we decided to become foster parents as well.

I was serving as an executive pastor at a local church when this journey began and I quickly recognized how hard and isolating the work of being a foster parent can be. I also quickly recognized that our church wasn't doing enough to serve families like ours even though we already had several foster, adoptive, and kinship families in the church. James 1:27 kept running through my head. As you probably know, it says:

Pure and genuine religion in the sight of God the Father means caring for orphans and widows in their distress and refusing to let the world corrupt you.

This motivated us to start support ministries for those families. Soon God sent us many more families that needed the kind of community that we were offering, people that might have never otherwise set foot in our church were making decisions to follow Jesus, more families were deciding to foster and adopt, this became an important part of our church's DNA, and we were known in our community as leaders in this space.

I tell you all of this to help you visualize why every church needs to find its place in serving foster, adoptive, kinship, and vulnerable families in their communities. The local church is truly the solution to the child welfare crisis and when the church gets involved, amazing things happen. The verse that I shared above is actually just one of more than 40 times where God's Word talks about His followers caring for the fatherless. There are also approximately 400,000 children in foster care in the United States and more than 9,000 right here in Kentucky. If you're like me, that might feel overwhelming. The good news is that no one of us is meant to solve this massive problem on our own.

Just like each member of the body of Christ has a unique calling, purpose, and passions, the same is true of each local church. Your church is uniquely equipped to serve kids and families in your community in some way and so are the church down the street and the one across town. When each of us does our part, we are able to accomplish so much more for the Kingdom than we ever could on our own. Children and families' earthly outcomes will certainly be improved, but even more importantly, so will their eternal outcomes.

FOSTER CARE ENGAGEMENT

Joseph S. Girdler, DMin
KMN SUPERINTENDENT

jgirdler@kyag.org

A As we bring attention once again to the incredible need for our churches and families to become FOSTER CARE engaged, I wanted to share some practical insights from Kentucky Government statistics that could encourage "next steps" options.

What are the requirements to foster a child in Kentucky? Foster and adoption licensing requirements are that Applicants must be at least 21 years old. Parents can be married or single and should be financially stable with an income (separate from any financial support offered to foster or adoptive parents for the child's needs) sufficient to meet their family's needs.

What benefits do foster parents get in Kentucky? To meet the needs of children placed in their home, foster parents receive: Financial assistance in the form of a daily rate. Medical coverage for the children. Daycare assistance for working parents.

How much do foster parents get paid in Kentucky? As of Sept 1, 2024, the average hourly pay for a Foster Parent in Lexington is $19.72 an hour.

Do foster kids get free college in Kentucky? DID YOU KNOW? The tuition waiver for foster and adopted children waives the tuition and mandatory fees at any Kentucky public college or university. This includes the vocational and technical programs offered through the Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS).

And, how long does it take to be a Foster Parent in KY? The training, evaluation and approval process normally takes six to nine months. The amount of time until a family receives a child depends on how flexible the family is about the type of child they wish to parent. Foster parents may receive a child shortly after approval.

Psalm 68:5 reminds us that God is the father of the fatherless and protector of widows. Pray about it. That's all I ask. God just might lead you to be a father - to the fatherless.

For Him,
Pastor Joe & Reneé

OUR CHURCHES CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Rev. Terry Crigger
KMN ASST. SUPERINTENDENT

tcrigger@christschapel.net

We have several families at Christ's Chapel that have foster children in their homes. In some instances, this journey leads to adoption. In every instance, I am inspired and impressed with the level of commitment required to create 'family' for kids who otherwise would have limited access to compassionate care and the benefits of a faith community. The numbers are staggering. Over 400,000 U.S. children are in foster care.

Our local churches can make a real difference in the lives of some of the most vulnerable members of our society. The mandate of scripture is clear. God's heart is for the fatherless and orphaned, those who are marginalized in our culture.

We recently took a full weekend of services to have one of our foster care families tell their story. We additionally recognized all the parents that have either adopted or foster care children as part of their family. The following Monday, we invited a local foster care agency to come and answer questions from those in our congregation considering their own options. Our goal was primarily to educate and hopefully inspire interest, but also to build support for those already on this journey.

There are four additional ways your local church can have a positive impact on the foster care system...

1. Pray: Gather members from your church and pray for children and families already involved in the foster care system. Ask God to give your church family specific ways to get more involved on a hands-on level.
2. Educate: Similar to most cultural issues, the American church often lacks awareness and education of the facts that will enable believers to make a focused and informed plan of action.
3. Implement a Plan: Take the next step and put into place specific actions to move the conversation forward. Celebrate victories, birthdays, and special moments in your service to keep awareness alive and give attention to the children and families already on this journey.
4. Stay Engaged: Encourage members of your local church to consider being foster or adoptive parents. Look for opportunities to come alongside those in your church that are already doing so, offering them a few days off by providing care for their children.

By the grace of God,

Terry Crigger

U40 (Under 40 Ministers)

>> “For those who are led by the Spirit of God are the children of God. The Spirit you received does not make you slaves, so that you live in fear again; rather, the Spirit you received brought about your adoption...” (Romans 8:15).

My two sons have reached an age where they can earn money. Their primary source of income is that my wife and I pay them $1 for every hour that they read. And them earning money gives us an opportunity to teach them about saving, spending, and most importantly, giving.

Don't get me wrong, they struggle with the idea of saving money, but giving is far and away the larger hurdle. Every time we talk about money, Mom and I find ourselves repeating some version of the same timeless truth: We give as we have been given.

Romans 8 is not about giving; it's not about money. It is about living by the Spirit. It is about the heart of our relationship with God—we are His children. His adopted children.

This is why foster care and adoption are so near and dear to the heart of God. Because we are near and dear to the heart of God. Is God calling you to give as you have been given, to be an adopter because you have been adopted?
